NO COUNCIL ACTION

On McCarter Request. They're not opening the champagne just yet at McCarter Associates. The organization applied to the Borough for a club liquor license, hoping to entice theatre-goers into membership by offering them some ice between the acts.

But the path to the bar is longer than anyone thought. It is possible that McCarter may have to ask for a zoning variance, or else face the impossible task of providing parking spaces per number of seats, as the ordinance requires.

The request, scheduled for discussion this Tuesday by Borough Council, has been postponed while the Associates decide what to do.

Council also introduced on Tuesday a public intoxication ordinance. Under this measure, drunkenness alone is not a crime, and an intoxicated person may not be arrested solely because of drunkenness. If the intoxicated person is breaking the law, however, arrest may follow the usual pattern.

Hoping to move ahead on patching up the sewer system, Council held public hearing on the sewer improvement bond ordinance. It provides $35,000 for the purchase of grouting equipment, air compressors and the like, so that the Borough can begin work on leaky pipes.

The cost will be divided among Borough, Township and Princeton University on the basis of normal usage of the sewer lines by all three members of the Sewer Operating Committee.

A mid-August work session will occupy Council this Wednesday, starting at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

The agenda includes consideration of a capital budget, personnel policies, discussion of a possible Historic Sites Commission ordinance, and license fees charged to vendors, solicitors, taxis and so on.

WHERE'S THE FIRE?

Misunderstanding? Is a formal, joint Borough-Township fire department in the works, or isn't it?

At a joint meeting earlier this summer, both governing bodies passed a resolution setting up a Joint Fire Commission. Last Wednesday, when Township Mayor Josie Hall announced she wanted to name Richard Fowler and Gene McPartland to the Commission, municipal attorney Gordon Griffin suggested that she wait.

In the see-saw discussion that followed, it developed that mayor and attorney were talking about two different things: Mr. Griffin (and Administrator Joseph R. Nini) thought an ordinance creating a formal, joint fire department is about to be drafted. Mayor Hall said it was her impression that there was only the resolution setting up the commission.

The next night, at Borough Council's agenda meeting, Mayor Robert W. Cawley also talked about an ordinance creating a joint department, thereby surprising some members of Council considerably.

"In essence, we already have a joint department," Mayor Cawley said later. "We've always treated the budget and truck purchase jointly. True, the Borough owns the firehouses but that wouldn't be a problem to work out."

"We and the Township resolved to create a temporary commission, with the understanding that it would become permanent, and then work on the necessary ordinances," Mayor Cawley's Commission appointees are Mrs. Marian Green and George Griffing.

Mr. Nini observed, last Wednesday, "The Township is paying two-thirds the cost of fire equipment with nothing to show for it."

A new pumper, at a possible cost of $65,000, is scheduled to be ordered this year.

WANT THAT BIKE PATH?

Hearing Planned. The state is ready to climb on its bike and go, but Township Mayor Josie Hall isn't sure Township residents are quite so enthusiastic. For that reason, Township Committee will hold a special Hodge Road, after Committee hearing next Wednesday, unanimously approved August 17, on the state's plans assessments for the Autumn for a Stockton-Edgerstoune Hill sewer. Mr. Kennedy owns bikepath system. Interested property in the area, and his residents are invited to assessment problems have occupied long hours for Committee, the Board of Improvement Assessors and,

A path would be built along Stockton Street from Lovers Lane on the Borough line to Edgerstoune, within the state's own right-of-way. Edgerstoune Road itself would not have a bike path, but it would be designated a bikeway. At its end, the present bike path connecting Edgerstoune with Rosedale would be widened to seven feet, and a post set up in the middle, so that vehicles wouldn't use the widened path.

Federal funds will probably pay 70 percent of the cost and state funds the remainder, "...unless the state is short," said Administrator Joseph R. Nini, who has had some experience in this regard. There is no Township appropriation.

A Neighborhood Problem. By mid-September, Committee members hope to know how other communities enforce littering ordinances. Neighbors of the Somerset Farms store on State Road would like fewer sandwich wrappers, soda bottles and ice-cream cups scattered about.

Gordon Griffin, municipal attorney, suggested that a kind of zoning regulation, with the burden on the property-owner, might be one avenue. He said also that any regulation could be made to apply only in that zone, so that it would not affect the Shopping Center.

Police Chief Frederick Porter and Acting Engineer Bagwan Das reported meeting with Philip Collins, owner of the Somerset Farms building, about a Township parking plan which would help traffic, if not litter. Mr. Das said, however, that Mr. Collins did not like the proposal because it would cost him two parking spaces and thereby place him in violation of the zoning ordinance.

Mr. Collins said he would come up with his own plan. Mr. Das reported, but had not yet done so.

An anonymous donor, through the New Jersey Conservation Foundation, has given $5,000 for wooden seats in the new Community Park amphitheatre.

Committee agreed that the name of the 40-acre tract donated to the Township by Mrs. Mary Pardee should be "John Witherspoon Woods." Mrs. Pardee had suggested the name.

This Wednesday, Committee will hold public hearing on the tennis courts lighting ordinance and consider again the annual road resurfacing ordinance.

Legat Action Planned. "I'll see you on the court-house steps," was the parting remark of Kevin Kennedy, 155 Committee will hold a special Hodge Road, after Committee hearing next Wednesday, unanimously approved August 17, on the state's plans assessments for the Autumn for a Stockton-Edgerstoune Hill sewer. BEAUJOLAIS - POPULAR AND LOVED Beaujolais (Bo-sho-lay) is one of the most popular and best loved wines of France. It is nearly always red. The grape used for the production of Beaujolais is the Gamay, which is ranked as a lesser grape and cannot by Appellation Controlle (A.C.) law be planted in the better vineyards of Burgundy. However, because of the soil composition in the Beaujolais area (Granitic and clay with trace elements of manganese, etc.) the Gamay grape produces a wine that is unique. It is a light, agreeable, fruity, and truly delightful red table wine that is at its best when consumed young (under 3 years old).

There are four (4) gradations of Beaujolais:

1. Beaujolais - 9% alcohol by volume.
2. Beaujolais Superior - 10% alcohol by volume.
3. Beaujolais Village - 10% (comes from one of (35) designated communes).
4. Beaujolais Grand Cru - 10% (only nine (9) growths may carry this A.C.).

Mayor Hall Uncertain Whether Township Can Reach Agreement With Borough on Its Plan for Division of Sewerage Gallons

"People have been building whether they should or not, hoping to creep in," said Township Mayor Josie Hall sharply last Wednesday, after three petitioners had pled hardship, asking permission to tie into a sewer line, now that the moratorium has been partially lifted.

Meanwhile, Hopewell Township has decided it will not be part of the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority's sewer plans. The township was a charter member of the Authority.

In Princeton, Borough Council introduced an amended agreement with the Authority which takes Hopewell's withdrawal into account, and Township Committee scheduled a special meeting for this Thursday at 8 p.m., for similar action.

Committee will also take up the problem of the sewer ban modification on Thursday. The state has said Borough and Township together can have 64,000 gallons per day.

"I honestly don't know whether we can reach an agreement with the Borough," Mayor Hall warned last week's petitioners. The Borough wants to allocate 10,000 of the 64,000 gallons to the proposed Princeton Community Housing, Inc. project near the Playhouse, 27,000 to Princeton University for its biochemistry lab, and divide the rest

50-50 with the Township. This would mean 13,500 gallons for each.

One petitioner, Robert Albert, 187 Gallup Road, said he had a malfunctioning holding tank that was costing him $200 a month. Neither the University nor PCH will be using their allotment for at least a year, he protested to Committee.

Mayor Hall spoke gloomily of a six-bedroom house on Rosedale Road and a five-bedroom house on Drakes Corner, both of which had septic problems and wanted to connect.

Charles Friedman, 210 Brookstone, told Committee it would cost "thousands" to correct his system, and architect John Breneman said a house he was building needed to tie in because a holding tank would be costly.

"Holding tanks should be given a priority," Mayor Hall said. She told Committee she had heard of companies who simply drove their loaded "honey wagons" to a manhole at night, lifted it up, and dumped the holding tank load right into the sewer.

Committee member Elizabeth Hutter observed that if "hardship" were the criterion, the Township and not the Borough would get most of the gallonage.

presumably, Mr. Kennedy himself.

He was billed in 1965 for an earlier sewer connection and is being billed again for this one. "This puts the taxpayers in extreme jeopardy!" he exclaimed to Committee. "How can this happen?"

If you've been assessed for one sewer, said Mr. Griffin, it doesn't mean you can't be assessed again for a later sewer, provided the later one increases the value of your property.

Stuart Minton, of the Board of Assessors, told Committee a sewer lot is worth $10,000 more than one without a sewer.

TO NAME ASSISTANT

For Superintendent. An Acting Assistant Superintendent who will be essentially an extension of the superintendent himself was scheduled for appointment by the school board either late this Tuesday or this Wednesday, following a final, early-evening interview Tuesday.

The board had 112 applicants for the job from 14 states, and has interviewed 21—nine from inside the Princeton public school system and 12 from elsewhere. The "acting" designation reflects the late start in advertising for candidates.

In essence, the assistant is the Superintendent's choice. Under New Jersey law, the school board can appoint an applicant only if the Superintendent has recommended that applicant. If the board rejects the name, the Superintendent must make another choice.

Superintendent Paul Houston said this week that he has three broad categories of responsibility for his new assistant. The largest, to occupy 60-70 percent of the assistant's time, is curriculum and instruction, including staff development.

Another responsibility will be personnel, chiefly overseeing day-to-day operations, which Dr. Houston described as already going along very well. The third will be straight administrative duties, such as handling grievances, preparing reports and the like.

The recommended salary will be in the low-middle 30s, with a top of $35,000 or $36,000. This represents 85 percent of the Superintendent's salary, which is the New Jersey median, Dr. Houston said. A salary at that level, he observed, reflects the importance of the job.

Likelihood of Property Reassessment Growing; Township Low by a Third, Borough by Over Half

Stu Robson, tax assessor for Borough and Township, may or may not be a man who thinks "life is unfair." But he most certainly is a man who thinks taxes should be fair. If that is possible.

Patiently, cheerfully, with a whole calculator full of figures, he has been trying in recent years to convince both his employers that revaluation, or possibly reassessment, of property in Princeton is absolutely essential. Last Wednesday, he took his argument to Township Committee.

He got some additional information—and ammunition—in the mail on Monday, when the Local Property Tax Bureau of the New Jersey Division of Taxation sent him the most recent figures on Borough and Township.

Property in Mercer County must be assessed at 100 percent of what it's worth. Theoretically. But the real estate situation in Princeton is so wild that this 100 percent figure is laughably out of date.

"There's a house in the Township," Mr. Robson says, "that was assessed at $84,300 in 1972—the last time we did a reassessment. It sold this year for $160,000."

Owners of that house, in short, were paying taxes on only about 52 percent of the house's true value, and could be said not to have been paying their share of the tax burden.

Ratios Excessively Low. The letter from Trenton delivered on Monday showed that the average ratio for the Township, far from being 100 percent, has slipped from 78 percent to 66.79 percent in the past year.

The Borough's average ratio slid from 53 percent to 45 percent. This means that, on the average, a householder in the Borough is only paying taxes on 45 percent of what the house could bring if it were sold.

A ratio like the Borough's, Mr. Robson warned this week, may mean the county will step in and ask the Borough to do a revaluation.

Revaluation is important, Mr. Robson reminded Township Committee because county and Borough-Township sharing costs are determined by the ratio.

"If the Township's ratio goes up," he explained, "the Township's share of joint county-Borough-Township projects goes down."

Committee's three non-vacationing members agreed to postpone a decision until their two vacationing colleagues return. But they seemed enthusiastic about Mr. Robson's suggestions.

A Moderate Approach. He recommends a "modified revaluation." The company hired to do the job would use property-record cards now in Mr. Robson's office, but they would still inspect the exterior and interior of each house in the Township.

In a complete revaluation, the firm would start at zero base and measure all properties. In a reassessment, records are updated without visits to the properties.

"I think the cost could be met through 'discovery,'" Mr. Robson says. "Things like central air-conditioning, finished attics, game rooms, terraces—installed without the benefit of building permits. Just uncovering these could pay for the revaluation."

He told Committee that $13 to $25 per line item—that is, per piece of property—is the going rate. He estimates $16 for the Township. There are 4,132 line items in the Township.

"Revaluation firms would like to have the prestige of doing a program in Princeton," Mr. Robson told Committee, "this might mean a lower cost."

A Welcome Control. When Township properties were updated in 1966, the Committee of that day appointed a group of local real estate appraisers and a local economist (Dr. Henry J. Frank) to review the work of the firm while it was in progress, and afterwards.

This Review Board gave Township taxpayers a feeling of confidence, Mr. Robson believes, an assurance that neighbors with professional skill were making sure that everything was done fairly.

There were only about 30 appeals in some 4,000 line items, Mr. Robson recalls and he'd like a citizen committee this time, too.

"Please try not to release your results in the fall just before an election," was the plea of Committee member Margaret Broadwater. "It becomes a political football when it is really a housekeeping job a responsible government must do."

UNUSUAL CHARGE MADE

In Rare Snake Case, David Christensen, 24, of Carter Road, Hopewell Township, was one of 12 persons indicted last Thursday on federal charges of smuggling rare snakes and amphibians into the country for resale to zoos.

The United States attorney in Philadelphia, David Marston, said the indictments were the result of a 2½-year investigation into the illegal importation of more than 600 rare animals which were then sold to eight of the nation's most prestigious zoos, including the Philadelphia Zoological Garden and the National Zoological Park in Washington, a branch of the Smithsonian Institution.

Mr. Christensen, described by the prosecutor as an amateur herpetologist, or collector of reptiles and amphibians, was charged with violating U.S. Customs laws and the Lacey Act, which makes illegal the importation of wildlife from other nations in violation of their laws.

The U.S. Attorney's office charged that Mr. Christensen and a reptile dealer from Willow Grove, Pa., traveled to the Fiji Islands in June, 1973, and bought 24 banded Fiji iguanas and 11 Fiji tree boas. From there the two went to Papua, New Guinea, and purchased 33 rare tortoises, pythons and crocodiles.

After being shipped to Singapore and repackaged the animals were sent to Philadelphia. The defendants were not arrested but were expected to appear in Philadelphia this week for arraignment.

According to the U.S. Attorney, the Interior Department may seek civil penalties against officials and curators of the zoos that received the animals.

FMC EMPLOYEE KILLED

In Cycle Crash, A 21-year old mail clerk at the FMC Corporation in Plainsboro died last Thursday of injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident.

State Police said that Mark J. Hook of Bordentown had left a softball game being played by women employees at FMC when a passing police officer noticed that the inspection sticker on the motorcycle had expired. Police said that the officer pursued the motorcycle in a high speed chase on Plainsboro Road, east of Route 1.

The motorcycle approached a curve in the road and collided with an automobile

The defendants appeared in Mercer County Court before Judge Michael Imbriani, who set bail. All the defendants were released on bail.

Arrests were scheduled for this Thursday, also before Judge Imbriani.

William Gutbrodt, 30, 50 Wilton Street, conspiracy to distribute marijuana and cocaine. Bail $1,000.

Thomas Sheeran, 23, 156 Spruce Street, conspiracy to distribute hashish. Bail $1,000.

Detective Douglas Watson and Patrolman Chris Boutote made the arrest at 156 Spruce Street. Sgt. Robert Anderson and Patrolman William Fitch served the arrest warrant at 50 Wilton Street.

Police said that the investigation began as a result of information supplied to the Special Investigation Unit of the Mercer County member of Faith Baptist church in Trenton.

2 LAICENTIES REPORTED

On Linden Lane. Sometime between midnight and 8:15 last Sunday morning a thief broke into a house on Linden Lane and removed two wallets in a handbag that was left on the sofa in the living room.

Entry was made by cutting through a screen window in the kitchen at the back of the house.

Elsewhere on the same street, a resident reported the theft of a citizens band radio from a car parked in the 1974 graduate of Bordentown driveway. The time of the theft was estimated as between midnight and noon Sunday morning. The radio was valued at $75.

At the scene of that theft a wallet was recovered from the other break-in. The second wallet was found at the corner of Linden and Spruce Street.

ONE GOT AWAY

In Bike Caper. Captain Theodore Lewis of the Borough police, who runs three miles a day to stay in shape, couldn't get up a head of steam quite fast enough to apprehend a young man on a stolen, 10-speed bicycle.

The cops and robber action began this Monday afternoon when a woman called police to report she saw a young man cutting the chain on a bicycle parked at the Princeton Public Library.

The young man was seen riding the bike down Spring Street toward Vandeventer Avenue. Captain Lewis was driving down Vandeventer when he spotted the culprit, being approached by Officer Douglas Drummond. Captain Lewis got out of his car and the bike rider shot off in the opposite direction of the way the police car was headed.

The captain gave chase on foot and came within a few feet of grabbing the thief, who disappeared on North Tulane Street. The bicycle, the chain cutters, and the thief's red shirt were recovered - but not the young man.

Another 10-speed bike, a Fuji, was reported stolen last Tuesday, August 2, from the Dorothea House at 120 John Street. This one also apparently was taken in broad daylight. It was reported missing at 3:26 p.m.

PRINCETONIAN CHARGED With Pot Possession. Richard W. Huckins, 21, of 56 Finley Road, was arrested last Friday by Township Police and charged with possessing less than 25 grams of marijuana, "a mild misdemeanor," in the words of Lt. Richard V. Steinert.

Police said that a young man sitting on the bank of Stony Brook near the bridge on Province Line Road suddenly ducked into the bushes when the patrol car passed by. Their suspicions aroused, the police parked the car up the road and walked back on foot. Mr. Huckins was observed smoking a pipe, which was confiscated and sent to the police laboratory for analysis. Patrolman James Vandemark was the arresting officer.

TRAFFIC FINES LEVIED In Township Court William J. Arming, of 2695 Main Street, Lawrenceville, was fined $35 for speeding in Township Court last week. Paul A. Magnin, of Nelson Ridge Road, paid $30 for a stop sign violation. Keith R. Spalding, of 11 Norchester Lane, Princeton Junction, was fined $25 for careless driving.

FOUR SPEEDERS FINED In Borough Court. Four area residents were fined for speeding violations in Monday night's session of Borough Court.

They were Vanessa Lucarella, 1864 Stuart Road, $21; Suzanne Deputy, Bedens Brook, Skillman, $25; Eric Miner, 62 Wheatbeaf Lane, $19; and Shui Yuan, 12 Mer-shon Street, $17.

Wally Zeglin, of R.D. 2, Belle Mead, was fined $25 for careless driving. Gregory Triestman, of 180 Franklin Corner Road, charged with operating an unsafe vehicle, was fined $25.

Bruno Simini of 112 Cuyler Avenue, found that hitchhiking does not pay in the Borough. He was fined $10.

2 BATTERIES STOLEN In Borough. The battery thief struck twice last week. An Aiken Avenue resident reported that sometime between 5:30 p.m. last Wednesday and 7:15 a.m. last Thursday, the battery was stolen from his car parked in the driveway. The value was put at $30.

Last Friday between midnight and 9:30 a.m. the battery was yanked from a van belonging to Jay's Cycle Shop at 249 Nassau Street. That one was valued at $40.

Eligible for Food Stamps?

There is a toll-free hot line number, 800-792-9773, available for information on the food stamp program. The information is given weekdays from 9 to 5.

The Mercer County Community Action Council is concerned that there may be a large number of people eligible to participate in the program who have not applied for it and don't know how to go about it. The number was set up to expand participation.

RIVERSIDE PRINCIPAL?

Selection Expected. "We hope to have a Riverside principal by the time school opens," Superintendent Paul Houston said this week.

Applications were submitted by 135 people, including half a dozen from within the Princeton school system, he said. In a few days, the Superintendent added, as people begin returning from vacations he hopes that parents in the Riverside area will be able to comment on the kind of principal they want.

Dr. Houston will submit several candidates' names to the board for interviews before the final selection.

Edith Francis, former principal of Riverside, served last year as Acting Superintendent before the appointment of Dr. Houston, and Florence Burke was Acting Principal of Riverside during that time. Mrs. Francis is now Superintendent of the Ewing school system.

Steinar's Shearlings

Landau's has the most luxurious sheepskin garments in the world: they are lightweight, pliable, durable and sensuous. These shearlings are designed by the expert Icelandic furrier, Steinar Juliusson.

The remarkable properties of Icelandic sheepskins result from the superb weather protection they receive from the sheep's unusually dense wool coat. Because they are so well insulated, Icelandic shearlings do not become thick or tough as do the skins of other sheep.

Each shearling used by Steinar is vat dyed prior to hand fabrication. This effective dyeing process prevents spotting and staining from rain and snow. Steinar selects the most pliable skins for the arms where the most flexibility is required and utilizes the most durable skins for the back and shoulders to ensure a lifetime of wear. The skins are then cut, edges shaved and sections sewn together by one person who has responsibility for the perfection of the finished product.

Steinar gives each garment individual attention. He designs these coats and jackets to have meticulously stitched mini-seams which gives them a slim, tailored look seldom found in other shearlings. Only 35 garments a week are turned out in Steinar's workshop.

Wear a Steinar Shearling for a new feeling of lushness, comfort and warmth. Carried exclusively in North America by Landau's.

Shearling Coat. Live it up in this fabulous boot length shearling. It's regal, urbane, glamorous, positively luxurious. Classically cut by Steinar with raglan sleeves, tab buttonholes, tie belt and generous pockets. Features broad notched collar and roll back cuffs, exposing sensuous silky curls. Soft tan color with creamy fleece. Sizes 6-16, for $485. Matching hat S M L $35.00. (Jackets available for men and women).

WATER TANK FOR PENNINGTON: A new, 600,000 gallon water storage tank is being built in Pennington behind the town municipal offices and the public library on North Main Street. The structure will be 104 feet tall and will replace an older tank nearby which held 190,000 gallons and which will be demolished. Curved steel plates are hoisted into place and then welded. Construction is currently halted because of a steel workers' strike, but the contract calls for completion within a year of the signing of the contract January 9.

$105,000 Green Acres Grant to Township

A Green Acres grant to pay half the cost of the 10.5-acre plot across Bunn Drive from Princeton Community Village has been awarded to Princeton Township. The amount is $105,000.

The Township has also applied for a HUD block grant to pay for the rest of the land. Final appraisals were slightly higher than the original ones, so there may be something left over for the Township to pay if the HUD grant is received.

HUD officials toured the site last week with Marianne Rees, who prepared the required HUD documents, and she said they seemed impressed. Final word is expected soon.

The plot is already used by PCV residents for gardens and games, and it will continue to be used in that way. There will also be picnic areas.

In addition, a social services department for PCV will be established and there will be a summer recreation program for the low-income and moderate-income families in the village.

"THERE IS BEAUTY IN THE BELLOW OF THE BLAST"
Vivian Argilan as Katisha draws forth such sentiments as the plot of "The Mikado" progresses. Marvin Stafford, as The Mikado himself, observes the lady with some alarm. Both are in the Trenton Artists Showcase production this Saturday and next Saturday and Sunday.

"Midnight at 11" will run three week-ends, starting with this one, which will be a salute to George Gershwin, with "I Got Rhythm," "Rhapsody in Blue," "Of Thee I Sing" and probably even more.
Geoff Rich, musical director of "110 in the Shade" as well as Intime producer, will be musical director and pianist for "Midnight at 11," working with Jon Negus, whom Intime cabaret audiences will recall from last year. Intime says that Jon played in a back-up band for Bob Hope and once performed for President Ford in concert. For cabaret audiences, he'll be on saxophone and clarinet.

THE DREAM? IMPOSSIBLE! Don Quixote, played by Art Neill (right), sings "The Impossible Dream" to Sancho, played by Mike Lawrence, in this scene from Theatre-by-the-Lake's "Man of La Mancha." It's due next week-end on the Paddle School campus, Hightstown.

director for "Midnight at 11," is a graduate of the Yale School of Drama, where he has performed in Shakespeare, Wilde and O'Neill. He has acted also in Philadelphia dinner theatres and in the Yale Repertory Theatre.
Show-time is 11 p.m., and tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for students.

...FROM LA MANCHA
That Man, "Man of La Mancha" will conclude Theatre-by-the-Lake's fifth season with performances next week-end on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 18, 19 and 20 in Geiger-Reeves Hall on the campus of Peddie School, Hightstown. Curtain is 8:30.
When Miguel de Cervantes is imprisoned by the Spanish Inquisition in 1597, he and his man-servant find themselves before a kangaroo court of prisoners preparing to confiscate all of Cervantes' possessions.

He presents a defense in the form of a play, transforming himself into an elderly country squire who believes, in his fantasy, that he is the glorious knight, Don Quixote de la Mancha.
Throughout the sombre story are the songs of Mitch Leigh including the most familiar, "The Impossible Dream" and "Dulcinea."
Jeffrey R. Holcombe and Thomas M. Cardea are directing. Art Neill—he's been Fagin in "Oliver" and John the Baptist Judas in "Godspell"—will play the dual role of Cervantes and Quixote, joined by Michael Lawrence in his Theatre-by-the-Lake debut as Sancho Panza, the man-servant.
In other roles are Sue Mandell as Dulcinea, John Sauerman in the dual role of the Governor and the innkeeper and Robert Watson, Debbie Sprague and Thomas Cardea.
Ron Brockway has designed the sets and Paul Faloona the lighting.

THREE, ONE ACT EACH
By Street Theatre. "Next," by Terrence McNally, "Adaptation," by Elaine May and "Wandering," by Lanford Wilson will be the triple-header offered August 18-21 and 26-27 by Street Theatre in 8 p.m. performances around Princeton and West Windsor. Exact places will be announced later.

Him. Anne Fenton is in charge of the stage as manager.

"Next," has Curt Rosloff as director, and a two-member cast consisting of Sunni Farrington and Stephen Smith. In its first performances in New York in 1969, "Next" was given along with "Adaptation," and it is the same for Street Theatre. Debbie Bellow is directing "Adaptation" for Street Theatre. In her cast are Peter Dolotta, Myra Chanley, John Wible and Andy Laasman. Bethany Dutton is serving as stage manager.

Ken Junkins is tech. director for these plays, and has also designed the lights and sets. Dina Blanc is costumes co-ordinator and Karen Schleyer is in charge of props.

BAND CONCERT PLANNED
To Honor PHS Leader. In honor of Jack Horner's 25 years as band leader at Princeton High School, a special 21-piece swing band has been organized for a single performance Thursday, August 18, at 8 in the high school auditorium. Admission is free.

Called Jack Horner's PHS All-Star Band, it has been assembled by PHS senior Jon Negus who has gathered what he calls "the most sensational combination of instrumental talent that has worked in Mr. Horner's high school bands in the last 15 years." The band will play tunes by Count Basie, Stan Kenton, Maynard Ferguson and many other swing and jazz favorites.

Appearing with Mr. Horner and his trombone are Larry Wright, Eric Swartzentruber, Phil LaBar, and Mike Moss, trumpets; Paul Eisler, Bob Woodside, Tom Stange and Jon Negus, saxes; Andrew Garman, trombone; Rob Hastings, tuba; Robert Davidson, guitar, Chasly P. Roth, bass, and Edward Eicher, drums. All are graduates of the high school and of Mr. Horner's bands. Joining them will be special guests Arnold Roth on tenor sax and Chad Edwards on piano.

Sound will be provided by Ken Berger, PHS '70, and lighting will be designed and executed by Chris Negus, PHS '75.

"MOONCHILDREN"

On Intime Stage. Remember flower children? It was back in the dawning of the age of Aquarius, around 1960-something, and Summer Intime is recreating those far and long ago times in "Moonchildren," final production of the summer season for the theatre.

"Moonchildren" will open next Thursday, August 18, at 8:30 and will play at the same time that Friday and Saturday. On Sunday, the curtain at Murray Theatre will be at 7:30. The same hours and days will prevail the following week-end.

In "Moonchildren," director Mitchell Ivers has a cast of Summer Intime regulars, portraying the college seniors who are the leading characters in "Moonchildren." The play is concerned with the events that occur around - and within - this group, and how members of the group handle the changes.

"Coming out of the 60s," comments Mr. Ivers, "is all about not being able to believe in anything anymore, not being able to be sure. For these kids, it means living together, coping with each other and dealing with things that are so heavy they've got to be funny."

Mr. Ivers, a recent graduate of Princeton University, will study directing at New York University during the coming academic year.

JUDY

In McCormick Hall. Judy Garland's "A Star is Born" will be shown next Monday in McCormick Hall as the next Cinema Intime offering for the summer season.

Next Tuesday, the horror flick, "Twenty Million Miles to Earth," is on the schedule, and the Veronica Lake comedy, "I Married a Witch" will end the week next Wednesday, August 17. Screening time is 8 p.m. each evening.

QUARTET TO PLAY

In Outdoor Series. Princeton University Summer Chamber Concerts will present its third concert of the season on Wednesday, August 17, with a performance by the Primavera String Quartet.

The Primavera Quartet, based in New York, was founded in 1975 and won this year's Naumberg Competition. It will perform works by Mendelssohn, Shostakovich and Debussy.

These free outdoor concerts are held in the North Court of the Graduate College. Performances begin at 8:30 p.m., and the audience is advised to bring something on which to sit, as no chairs are provided.

In case of rain, the concert will be held in Proctor Hall at the Graduate College. Parking is available in the Graduate College lot off Springdale Road. The final concert of the series will take place on Wednesday, August 24, when the New York Vocal Arts Ensemble will present a program including works by Thomas Morley, Cesar Cui, Felix Mendelssohn and Steven Foster.

"OLIVER"

Open Air. The musical that sometimes appears with an exclamation mark and sometimes not - "Oliver!" - will be on the open air stage next week-end at Washington Crossing State Park in a Princeton Community Players production directed by Roo Brown.

"Oliver" - the Players eschew the exclamation mark - will open next Thursday, August 18, and will play that Friday and Saturday and again August 25, 26, and 27.

It's based on "Oliver Twist," as everyone knows. Bill Agness - remember him as Dawgmeat in "L'il Abner?" and "1776," "La Mancha," "Kismet"? - will be Sykes. Jack Rahilly is the Fagin, having played the part recently for the Allentown Community Players' production. Susan Tapper is Nancy, Steven Cragg is Artful Dodger, and 11-year-old Alan Schwartz, of Princeton Day School, is Oliver himself.

...and more: Richard Coburn, Lynda Lee Page, Pat Boardman, Denis Scott, Dorothy Stoddard, Abby Carothers, Jack Gwin, Dorothy Edwards, Sue Udy and crowds of Londoners, children, dancers.

FOR THE FAMILY

And Body-Builders. Buster Keaton's "The General" is the next family movie in the series being shown this summer in Kresge Auditorium on the Princeton University campus under the "Summer Cinema 77" banner.

It will be shown this Sunday at 4 p.m. in a single screening. Admissions at $1.50 will be on sale at the door starting at 3:30.

In "The General," Johnny Gray steals a locomotive from behind Confederate lines and sails it back to a Union outpost. The story is said to be based on an actual event, and there is romance and adventure as well as the usual Keaton comedy.

The eighth weekly double bill for Summer Cinema 77 will be "Pumping Iron" and "Bang the Drum Slowly," to be shown in Kresge from this Thursday through Sunday.

"Pumping Iron" is the award-winning documentary about the world of body-building, in which men dedicate their lives to acquiring the muscles of Atlas. The star is Arnold Schwarzenegger, six-time winner of the "Mr. Olympia" title.

Critics have said that "Pumping Iron" is a film with "heart, soul, blood, guts and sweat to match its muscles."

The second film on the double bill takes the viewer into big-league baseball, watching the doomed young catcher (Robert De Niro), his pitcher friend (Michael Moriarty) and the slow march toward the catcher's inevitable death.

"Pumping Iron" will be shown Thursday and Sunday at 7:30 and Friday and Saturday at 8. "Bang the Drum Slowly" will be shown at 9 p.m. Thursday and Sunday, 9:30 on Friday and Saturday.

To Us

NO FISH STORY
Dockside is a Good Catch. Reliable business reputations can take years to build, but not nearly so long to fall apart. Unfortunately, just this happened to the Princeton Shopping Center's fish market. Known for most of its long history as Frazee's, the market was established as a source of excellent fish. However, over the past few years, the store, now called Dockside, has known several owners and a gradual deterioration.

Happily a reversal is underway, for 12 weeks ago Flory Toto became the newest owner. This is a man who not only relishes fish, but also brings considerable knowledge to his business as he is a fish wholesaler, in addition to now being a retailer. Mr. Toto pragmatically said, "You can buy almost any cut of meat in a food store for $2 or less, so if you can't buy fish for that price, most people won't." With this in mind he has a wide choice priced under $2. Many of these are less well known to the novice fish-eater, but quite tasty.

Many recipes call for a firm white fish which is served with a wine or cream sauce, and Mr. Toto feels there is no need to pay the $3.50 price of a fillet of sole, when he can offer silver hake at $1.69 per pound. He also pointed out that of course there is no waste with a fillet and that a pound can easily serve three good eaters. Cooks would add, too, that this a healthy meal, as fish (with the exception of shellfish) is low in cholesterol.

Porgies, Mackerel and Trout. Other fish under $2 included fresh porgies, Boston mackerel, bluefish, whiting and sea trout fillet. Mussels, steamers and Little Neck clams are in this range too, priced from 49 cents to $1.60 per pound.

Depending upon the fishermen and their catch, Mr. Toto gets his fish from all along the East coast and the Dockside always has the more expensive varieties too. We saw sea scallops, fillet of flounder, red snapper fillet, swordfish, salmon, halibut, and lobsters, $2.95 to $3.95 a pound.

Bike Path Suggestions.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is the text of a letter we have sent to Princeton Township Mayor, Mrs. Josie Hall.

We, tax-paying residents of Princeton Township, are in complete accord with the letters which have been published in the past weeks (at least six letters) raising objections to the bicycle path which has been constructed on Elm and The Great Roads. Bicycle paths are fine, but they should not be built in such a way as to make a heavily travelled road more hazardous for motor traffic. The problem of snow clearance will also be a very real one, come winter.

At great trouble and expense, the widening of the Great Road out from Mountain Avenue to Stuart Road was accomplished several years ago, to lessen the hazards of much automobile and School Bus traffic to and from Princeton Day School and Stuart School.

The benefit of that widening has been nullified by construction of a curbed bicycle path which narrows the same segment of the Road by at least 20 percent. What parent will permit a child to use this dangerous road to "bike" to school? I know several who have said they would not do so.

Elm Road comes downhill from Cleveland Lane going north. The Great Road comes downhill from Princeton Day School toward the Boro. We, who must daily use this narrowed segment of Elm and The Great Roads, where Winfield Road comes in, are most aware of the dangers inherent. The bike path has intensified these dangers.

First, we second Mrs. Knox's suggestion to remove the Bike Path!

Failing this, the following safety measures must be put into effect immediately: 1. No passing in either direction between Westerly Road and Pretty Brook Road. 2. Speed limits (25 mi.) and danger signs posted in the same area, and enforced. 3. Overhead street light installed at Winfield Road intersection, and a yellow road sign indicating approach of a left hand intersection, on the way out from the Boro.

Mr. & Mrs. Gerrish Thurber
172 Hunt Drive

It's New to Us

There is also a wealth of experience backing this two-and-a-half year old Princeton business, for it is a branch of his father's 25-year old Long Island City firm.

In the typewriter field, Mr. Skoriak's biggest seller is the IBM factory reconditioned machines. These can be rented or purchased with the Selectric I (meaning you can quickly change the typeface) costing about $500 depending upon specific features.

Action Business Supplies is also an authorized dealer for Olympia and Adler, a West German company with a high-quality product. There are portable typewriters, too, for small home businesses or even students, and these, like much of the stock here, are sold below the list price. For instance, a Smith Corona 2200 lists at $320, but is sold for $250.

Electronic calculators have simplified numerous business activities and they come in every imaginable size from a $10.95 pocket model to Victor's $2500 desk-top programmable one that is really a mini-computer. Olympia and Casio are other lines here, and many models have printed tapes to supply a record of the work.

Casio, an innovative Japanese firm, also makes a few calculators with some fascinating extras. The CQI adds a digital clock, alarm and stop watch feature, while the Biolator gives daily readings on an individual's physical, intellectual and emotional state, based on recurring cycles, $49.95 and $24.95 respectively.

Office Copiers. Action Business Supplies has dictating equipment too by Stenorette, Narelo and Craig and office copiers are Company and Eskafat of Denmark. The copiers are strictly for small offices (needing no more than 500 copies a month) as Mr. Skoriak believes in servicing everything he sells, and this would be impossible with the larger models.

The 3M model is a two-step process, but this keeps the price reasonable and the quality reliable. It costs $309, and soon Mr. Skoriak said there will even be one priced at less than $100, bringing it right into the home market.

The newest line here is a group of electronic cash registers. In the area of business machines, this is the biggest change occurring, with the new machines smaller, faster, quieter, generally more reliable and often cheaper than the old ones. Mr. Skoriak was quick to point out, however, that this is a high-price field, and cheaper here means about $495.

Another new area for Action Business Supplies is office equipment which means everything from push pins and telephone message pads to file folders and correcto type. Because there are so many items here, a broad inventory is essential and Mr. Skoriak says, "We are targeting to have the whole line."

Located at Princeton North Shopping Center on Route 206 near Route 518, Action Business Supplies is open Monday through Friday from 10 until 5 and Saturday from 10 until 3.

Everybody needs to get away from it all now and then, even when "it all" includes the stratosphere, the planets and the very stars themselves. Martin Schwarzschild, the astronomer, and his wife, Barbara, can leave the world behind simply by stepping into the bird blind in their Princeton back yard. That's on week - ends. For three weeks each summer, however, they are excited, happy observers and photographers of bird life in remote corners of the world — once, as remote as North Dakota.

This summer it was Iceland, for the third time.

"Barbara and I have always enjoyed, individually and together, being outdoors," Dr. Schwarzschild explains, "but you can't just be outdoors, or the mind continues to work. You need to DO something. We have done skiing and snowshoeing and rock collecting, but our interest in birds developed as we decided we didn't want so much physical exertion."

".....and my parents gave us a bird - feeder, back in the early 1950s!" Mrs. Schwarzschild recalls with a smile.

Anything Feathered. Unlike most birders, the Schwarzschilds do not seek the rare avia, although they're certainly happy when one comes along. What they enjoy is a chance to watch birds in their natural habitat over a long period of time.

"There are all kinds of birders," Dr. Schwarzschild says. "We're on the other side."

In a portable bird blind about four - by - four, and five feet tall, with aluminum frame and camouflaged canvas sides, sewn by Mrs. Schwarzschild, the two birders will sit on folding chairs in a corner of their yard watching sparrows and catbirds, juncos and chickadees, for a whole happy week-end.

"When we know the same bird is back, the first time we see him in the spring.....!" and Mrs. Schwarzschild tells about a catbird who flew straight to a plate of raisins on his first day back.

He wouldn't have known about those raisins if he hadn't been here before. The other catbirds wouldn't come near it."

She looks quickly through a pile of eight - by - ten color prints, made from their slides, and finds an exquisitely sharp, exquisitely detailed portrait of a white - throated sparrow, the kind that hops around every yard in Princeton. But have any other bird - watchers, assuming they deign to observe a sparrow, seen the fine detail within the eye circle, clearly caught by the Schwarzschilds' Nikon and its telescopic lens?

At Home, and Away. Summer trips are often linked to Dr. Schwarzschild's work. An astronomer with an international reputation in astrophysics and observational astronomy, he is invited to seminars and colloquia all over the world and the portable bird blind and the tripod and the two Nikons and lenses go along.

Many exciting days of bird observation were fitted in, somehow, when Dr. Schwarzschild was in Palestine, Texas, working on Project Stratoscope. In that Federal program, a 36 - inch telescope was sent into the stratosphere by balloon to obtain high - definition astronomical photographs.

Near that Texas town — pronounced "Palesteen," by the way — is a privately - owned cypress swamp.

BIRD-WATCHING: Another kind of bird-watching occupies Dr. and Mrs. Martin Schwarzschild when they edit their slide collection. They carry both Kodachrome and high-speed Ektachrome film, and prefer to shoot birds at 1/250, with 1/125 of a second about the slowest shutter speed. If a nest is in the shade, they may use a mirror to direct light. Mrs. Schwarzschild is the on-the-wing photographer; "her reactions are faster than mine," her husband says.

"After the owners looked us over, they gave us the key to the gate," Mrs. Schwarzschild says, "and we watched the swamp birds from a rowboat. We spent a total of two years in that area, several months at a time. In the swamp we saw many egrets, the great egret and the snowy egret, little blue herons, cattle egrets, white ibis....."

"For You." Again she turns to the pile of prints, and this time it's a profile of an egret, his feathery plumes wide spread, in the midst of the mating dance, hoping to attract a female by presenting her with a twig from the nest he has built.

".....and a female did come along!" Dr. Schwarzschild laughs, "but he couldn't pull out the twig he wanted and after a time, in seeming frustration, he turned and bit her and of course, she didn't like that, and flew away. So he had to begin all over again."

The first Icelandic trip was in 1967, to see waterfowl in the remote lakes of that remote country. They went back last year and again this summer. Mrs. Schwarzschild describes the scene:

"We were on the northwest peninsula, the westernmost point in Europe — these huge, absolutely marvellous cliffs! Rather hair - raising, at the top, but the ocean birds.....!"

Common murre and razorbills from the auk family, fulmars, puffins....

"The puffins are so much fun," and Mrs. Schwarzschild chuckles in recollection,

"Two of them were fighting with those big beaks, you know, and the rest were simply standing around in a circle, solemnly watching."

Human Friends, Too. On their three-week holiday, the Schwarzschilds stay in the same place the whole time, and they have found it's as rewarding to know the people as to become acquainted with the birds. Beforehand, through birders in Princeton or organizations, they find the local bird specialist.

"Those specialists are on the side of the birds; they don't want strangers, who could do tremendous damage. Just the smell of a lot of people, for example, could lead foxes to a nest. So after the local people get to know us and know we're serious, they help us."

One expert was the only physician in a small North Dakota town near a tremendous wild - life refuge — "The duck factory," it's often called. Unfortunately, Dr. Schwarzschild's primary concern when the couple arrived in town, was an agonizing case of dysentery and he wanted a doctor for reasons not connected with ornithology at all.

"We had known of him, but I decided to say nothing until my medical problem was taken care of. Well, he wanted to know how long we were staying so that he could treat me. He was astounded when I said 'three weeks' and wanted to know why, so I had to admit it — birds. After that, I couldn't get him back to the subject of my illness!"

A Friend, Indeed. In that refuge the Schwarzschilds took one of their most appealing pictures — a close - up of a two - day - old grebe. Unafraid, he had paddled so close to Dr. Schwarzschild that a picture was impossible. The Schwarzschilds never pick up birds, but this baby jumped onto the hand held in the water.

He slipped off, took a dunking, and came up with a strand of algae rakishly over one small eye. He shook it off, and once again climbed into the hand.

Two siblings swam up to investigate, even nuzzling up Dr. Schwarzschild's sleeve, as into a nest.

"I was afraid I'd be imprinted as the 'mother' so I carefully put the little grebes back in their nest and left — fast! Soon the mother came along and fed them."

Mrs. Schwarzschild is a Resource Person in Princeton's public schools, showing slides and talking about birds at all grade levels. For the youngest children, she tells this story of "Guppy Grebe." Little children respond warmly to pictures of baby birds, she has found.

Nature Can Be Harsh. But there is another side to nature, and Dr. Schwarzschild comments on it.

"The harshness of nature is impressive. It's not just beauty and courage and devotion to the eggs. Ravens and glaucous gulls eat the eggs of two kinds of auks persistently. A murre with an egg on a cliff may see it roll off the slanted edge. We've seen young house finches impaled on the thorns of a cholla cactus, where the birds build their nests."

That was during a sabbatical in Tucson, when the Schwarzschilds spent four months watching birds that nest in cacti. "Common birds, but fascinating!" Mrs. Schwarzschild says, "cactus wren, curved bill thrasher, house finches...."

And a joyous photograph of a gilded flicker sipping the nectar from a giant saguaro cactus.

For the Record. But photography is not the main focus; it is simply a record of what has been observed. The 135 and 400 mm. telescopic lenses, the 35 mm wide-angle and the standard 50 mm go into light-weight back-packs along with the sandwiches, extra film — they shot 42 rolls in Iceland this summer, 36 exposures to a roll — and the splendid tripod" it sticks up over the back of my head, out of the back - pack!" Dr. Schwarzschild grins.

They never hike more than two or three miles from the car. In fact, they have found that a car is an excellent bird blind, from which they can sit, observe and photograph in comfort, ignored by the birds nearby.

"... but just open the door one inch, and off they go!"

Except for storks nesting in Austrian chimneys and the sparrows in the Princeton back yard, the birds are in the wild where there are no people. And that's the way the Schwarzschilds like it.

"One hundred miles from the nearest astronomer! That's our rule of thumb," Mrs. Schwarzschild laughs.

Birding takes a patient temperament, and the Schwarzschilds look at each other and laugh at the thought, "Well, we sometimes wonder whether we have it!" Dr. Schwarzschild replies, then adds, in seriousness,

"Life is hectic and often tense and you need something that restores your balance, something that is not related to people. Except to the two of us. Observing birds is our way."

MOSQUITOES ARE TOPIC Of Health Commission Meeting. Mosquito control problems in the Wildlife Refuge will be the subject of a public meeting arranged by the Princeton Regional Health Commission for Tuesday, August 16, at 2 in Borough Hall.

Dr. Jere Downing, the state entomologist who supervises the work of County Mosquito Commissions, will report his findings as to probable causes of a record build-up of vector mosquitoes in the Refuge recently. He will advise us on how to avoid this problem in the future.

Officials of the Mercer County Mosquito Control Commission and representatives of the Water Company are expected to be present. Members of the Borough and Township Environmental Commissions, the Regional Health Commission, Borough Council and Township Committee are invited to attend as are other interested citizens.

ART SHOW PLANNED

At Irish's Taxi Stand. An artist named Mumhiram who is from the west coast of India will have an exhibit of his works this weekend at Irish's taxi stand at the "Dinky" Station on University Place. Called "Autobiography of a Devotee," it will consist of pen and ink and wash drawings and gold leaf theological tablets.

The exhibit will next be shown at the Indian Embassy in Washington, D.C., where the artist expects to show different works over the next several weeks. Mr. Mumhiram, who describes his work as "personalist painting" and as "contemporary theological commentary in art," says that painting is in his family and he has been doing it as long as he can remember. He first came to the United States in 1967 and has also lived in Berlin, Germany.

He made a wager that in a place like Princeton, an artist can put up a show within a week. "If you are good enough" without having first to make contact with a gallery director, and that people will appreciate it. He also promised a friend on the west coast of the U.S. that he would have his work shown at the Indian Embassy, and he is now making good on the two pledges.

JAMBOREE ENJOYED
By Scouts from This Area. Forty Boy Scouts from the George Washington Council, B.S.A., attended the 1977 National Scout Jamboree near Pittsburgh, Pa. The Council serves boys in the central New Jersey area.

A grand total of 28,500 Scouts and their leaders from all over the United States, including about 250 from 22 foreign countries, attended the ninth National Jamboree, held in a state park in Western Pennsylvania built on land reclaimed from an earlier strip-mining operation.

The Jamboree opened with a bang last Wednesday as a 105 mm howitzer fired two rounds to signal the raising of the American Flag.

One of the men officially announcing the opening of the eight-day affair was Chief Scout Executive Harvey L. Price, of 21 Caldwell Drive, who is based at the National Scouting office in North Brunswick. One of the members of the 90-piece Jamboree band is Life Scout Scott Litzenberg of Troop 67, East Windsor. He is a drummer in the Hightstown High School Band.

Trading Time. Almost everywhere you turned you'd see groups of boys squatting on their heels or hunched over a picnic table bargaining hard with each other, trading colorful regional scout shoulder patches and other souvenirs, a big activity at all Scout Jamborees.

"We met some guys who were trading patches for crude oil, which was common in their area," 13-year old First Class Scout Rick Herron of Troop 66 in West Windsor said. "I also saw some kids from the Midwest trading wheat seeds and another groups from the West trading rattlesnake tails."

"One boy gave us some sand from the whitest beach in the world," 15-year old Star Scout Chip Jelsema of Troop 66, West Windsor, said, as he held up a small packet of sand from "a beach somewhere in Florida."

"We spent seven hours on the bus getting here," 13-year-old Star Scout Robert Barlow of Troop 52, Cranbury, said.

He saved his money from his paper route and from mowing lawns to pay for the trip to the Jamboree.

From Faraway Places. "It's fun to meet so many people from all over the country and the world," 13-year-old Star Scout Gregg Duke of Cranbury's Troop 52 said. He also earned most of the money to pay for his trip via a paper route and lawn-cutting.

"I've met kids from all over the U.S., and even met some from Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Scotland and Thailand," 15-year-old Eagle Scout Richard Vannozzi said. He's a member of Pennington's Troop 44 and a sophomore at Hopewell Valley High School. He said that he had already visited friends he met in Maine when he was with his family on vacation.

One Scout who has something to brag about is 16-year-old Class Scout David Kramer of Cranbury's Troop 52. He was the first Scout at the Jamboree to hit a direct bulls-eye at the archery course.

"You had to fire an arrow straight up into the air and try to get it to land inside a 55 gallon drum," David said. "I think mine was a lucky shot," he added modestly. He's been a Scout for eight years, beginning with Cub Scouts, and is now a junior at Hightstown High School.

Altogether, the Scouts at the Jamboree will consume a quarter million quarts of milk, 80,000 loaves of bread and 30,000 cases of canned goods during their week-long one-in-a-lifetime experience.

August 2 was the 70th anniversary of the date that Robert Lord Baden-Powell assembled the world's first Scouts in a camp on Brownsea Island off the coast of England, leading eventually to the establishment of the worldwide Scouting program. It was Baden-Powell, who died in 1941, who chose the term "jamboree" describing these quadrennial gatherings of Scouts after staging the first successful one at Birmingham, England, in 1913.

Immediately after the opening ceremony on Wednesday, the Scouts fanned out across the hundreds of acres of the jamboree site, entering into a round of activities that included patrol and individual competitions, waterfront events, a midway devoted to merit badges which Scouts can earn while exploring dozens of potential career fields, cultural centers featuring regional lifestyles across America and highlighting the heritage of various areas of the country.

RED CROSS SEEKS FUNDS
For Flood Victims. The Red Cross is appealing to the public in its area for emergency funds to help in the ravaged Johnstown, Pennsylvania area. Nationally the Red Cross is seeking to raise $2 million for immediate relief purposes.

The Princeton Chapter has been assigned a modest goal of $679 for its area which includes the two Princetons, Hightstown, Lawrenceville, Rocky Hill, Plainsboro, Cranbury and East and West Windsor.

The latest Red Cross surveys in the seven-county area of southwestern Pennsylvania show 600 dwellings, mobile homes, and apartments destroyed; 1536 with major damage and 5,243 with minor damage. In addition, 405 small businesses were destroyed or damaged, and 7,776 families were affected by the flooding. In hardest-hit Cambria County, including Johnstown, 6 Red Cross shelters remain open, housing some 825 persons; 24 fixed feeding locations are providing three meals a day for 13,385 persons.

A little over a year ago the citizens of this area responded generously when a special appeal was made to aid the victims of Teton Dam disaster in Idaho and the massive typhoon damage on Guam, according to Kenneth Wells, Chairman for disaster fund raising of the Princeton Chapter.

LSD TESTS REVEALED

At Skillman Institute. Experiments which involved administering LSD to reformatory inmates and to alcoholics, and which were sponsored by the Central Intelligence Agency, were conducted in the early 1960s on the grounds of the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute in Skillman.

One of the scientists conducting the LSD experiments was Dr. Carl Pfeiffer, who was associated with the now-defunct Bureau of Research in Neurology and Psychiatry, which was based at the Neuropsychiatric Institute. The Bureau was disbanded in 1973.

Now director of the Brain-Bio Center on Route 206, Dr. Pfeiffer responded last week in a letter to the New York Times and other papers which printed accounts of the recently revealed research.

"Your recent articles continue the witchhunt in regard to studies on hallucinogens such as d-LSD (dextro-LSD) which were sponsored by the CIA, the Army and the Navy a decade or two ago when these drugs were new and posed a military and civilian threat as they still do.

"Our studies on d-LSD met modern ethical standards although done 15 to 20 years ago. As the pioneer guinea pig in all studies, I have had 17 doses of LSD."

Research 'Encouraging.' Dr. Pfeiffer said he had conducted similar experiments on prisoners at the federal penitentiary in Atlanta before moving to New Jersey in 1960. The experiments at Skillman took place in 1962 and 1964.

Those to whom LSD was administered included a group of 36 Bordentown Reformatory inmates and patients at the alcoholic treatment unit at Skillman. Four chronic schizophrenics also were given doses of LSD.

"There is a good deal of evidence that LSD is beneficial to alcoholics and to some narcotic addicts, as well as helpful to people who are dying," said Dr. Humphrey Osmond, who was director of the Bureau of Research in 1963. "Our research was very encouraging, but unfortunately, just as it became encouraging, it became impossible to use LSD."

In 1966 the federal government issued stricter controls on the use of LSD for medical or therapeutic purposes. The government also banned the commercial manufacture of LSD.

Mind-Control. The LSD research at Skillman was part of a large group of CIA-sponsored experiments across the country dealing with aspects of mind control, according to the documents made public last week.

The Brain-Bio Center, with which Dr. Pfeiffer is now associated, is a non-profit nutritional center sponsored by the Schizophrenia Foundation of New Jersey and the New Jersey Mental Health Research and Development Fund. It seeks to diagnose and treat various types of schizophrenia and prevent mental disorders including senility through nutritional care.

MORE RAIN LIKELY

August to Be Wetter than July. New Jersey's weather outlook for August calls for heavier and more frequent rainfall than largely dry July, according to James Carr, National Weather Service advisory agricultural meteorologist at Rutgers University's Cook College. Temperatures, on the other hand, are expected to average close to the normal 73 degrees, interspersed with occasional spells of high temperatures, he said.

"Farmers and home gardeners," Mr. Carr said, "can expect rainfall averaging close to normal at about an inch a week in northern and central counties and about three-quarters of an inch in southern counties." Despite increased rainfall, however, irrigation probably will be necessary two to three days a week in the southern part of the state, Mr. Carr added.

The improved rainfall and field conditions favor the planting of fall crops, such as cauliflower, escarole, lettuce, snap beans and spinach, as well as the harvesting of summer apples, peaches, potatoes, squash, eggplant and peppers. Hay and field corn growth, the meteorologist added, should pick up in response to more rainfall.

New Jerseyans also can expect a greater amount of mildew and fungi on fruits and vegetables after mid-month, as the nights turn cooler and humid. After the 15th of the month, cranberry growers should be alert to the possibility of occasional frost in the colder bogs.

SCHOLARSHIP DISPUTED

By Colorado with University. A lawsuit filed in federal district court in Denver by the State of Colorado seeks to remove the University as the trustee of a scholarship fund. The fund was established in 1962 upon the death of William A. John '10, a wealthy Colorado rancher.

The fund, initially in the amount of $100,000, had been established by John in 1947 to pay income to himself for his lifetime and then to establish the Mary John Goree Scholarship Fund at the University upon his death. Eligibility for an award from the fund is restricted to residents of Las Animas County, Colo., the relatively rural county in the southwest portion of the state where John had lived. Since John's death, despite special recruitment efforts by Princeton, only three students from the county have attended the University and a fourth has been admitted for the coming academic year. Meanwhile, the market value of the fund has increased to approximately $400,000.

The University filed a petition on 29 June with the N.J. Superior Court requesting that the court modify restrictions on the fund. The action followed the breakdown of discussions with the Office of the Attorney General of Colorado and came only after the attorney general decided to file the suit in his own state.

"In its petition," says Assistant University Counsel R. Cloire Guthrie, "filed under the N.J. Uniform Management of Institutional Funds Act, an act specifically providing for release of 'obsolete, inappropriate, and impracticable' trust terms, Princeton asks that eligibility for the scholarships be extended to all Colorado residents, with a preference for residents of Las Animas County, and asks that it be permitted to apply a 'need-based' formula in making awards to any undergraduate recipients who are not residents of Las Animas County. The University believes, Ms. Guthrie added, "that the modifications sought would ensure that Las Animas County residents would continue to be the primary beneficiaries of the scholarship awards but would at the same time permit total use of the funds available for student financial aid."

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Do you know that if the Chicago White Sox win the American League pennant this season, they will become the first big league baseball team in this century to win a pennant after finishing in last place the year before ... No team in the majors in this century has ever won a flag after being last the season before ... The White Sox would up last in the American League West Division in 1976.

Here's an amazing fact from baseball ... As you know, it's extremely rare for any player to hit over .400 for any season in the big leagues, but did you know there was once a major league player who averaged over .400 for FIVE STRAIGHT SEASONS! ... Rogers Hornsby, in 1921, hit .397 ... In 1922, he hit .401 ... In 1923, .304 ... In 1924, .424 ... And in 1925, .403 ... That figures out to a 5-year average of .402!

A little-known fact about that great hitter Rod Carew is that he shares the all-time big league baseball record for a player stealing home the most times in one season ... Carew stole home an amazing seven times in 1969, tying the record set by Pete Reiser in 1946 ... And that record has never been topped in the majors.

I bet you didn't know, that Mortgage insurance is the least expensive of all life insurance. Is your mortgage insured? Who would continue the payments if you died? Call us. We'll help you find the answer.

CONTE STREAK BROKEN
In Adult Softball, Center Sports defeated Conte's, 12-8, Sunday afternoon to spoil Conte's bid for an undefeated season. Conte's had won 20 straight games before the 10-inning loss. Conte's already had clinched its division title in the Princeton Adult Softball League.

The game saw Center Sports take an early 5-1 lead. Entering the last inning, Center owned an 8-4 lead. However, with its back to the wall, Conte's fought back and scored four runs to tie.

Conte's had the potential winning run in scoring position in the seventh, eighth and ninth innings, but failed to capitalize. Center Sports scored four runs in the 10th inning to finally offer Conte's its first loss of the season.

Conte's earlier had upped its season record to 20-0 with two wins last week. Upset-minded Dutchtown Maintenance took a two-run lead, but Conte's fought back to win, 4-2. Rob Staats' two-run single was the game's key hit. Conte's had little trouble with Princeton Market in its 16-0 win. Jerry Perputa and Staats each had four hits, while Wes Cawley homered.

Center Sports continued its superb season with victories over Princeton Market, 21-4, and the Vets, 19-7. The Princeton Market game saw Center erupt for 30 hits, five by Greg Kline. Jim Ward went 3-for-3 in a losing cause. Against the Vets, Pat Kohney stroked four hits and Mario De Vincenzi hit a home run.

Ivy Wins Twice. In other league action, Ivy Inn also recorded two wins for the week. Keith Holcomb's four hits, one a homer, led Ivy over Richhards, 20-8. Using an eight-run fifth inning, Ivy blasted Dutchtown Maintenance, 17-5. Pete Watson had three hits for the winners.

Home runs by Bob King and Kevin Marshall led C. Square C. over Mike's Tavern, 19-7. Mike's Tavern broke out with two six-run innings and pounded Richhards, 20-6. Mike's Bob Klek homered, as did Richhards' John Lock.

GOLF CROWN REGAINED
By Ruth Thornton. Ruth Thornton last week defeated Kathy Shillaber, 2 and 1, for the Springdale Golf Club's Women's Club Championship. Miss Shillaber was the victor over Mrs. Thornton last year and was also club champion in 1975. Mrs. Thornton held the title in 1967 and 1970 through 1973.

To reach the final round, Mrs. Thornton had defeated Kate Conover, 4 and 2, Shirley Pearce, 2 up, and Nimmie Wurga (the 1974 champion) 1 up. Miss Shillaber had defeated Debbie Pierson, 4 and 2, Susan Paine, 3 and 2, and Claire Parsells, 2 up.

In the "Beaten Eights", Sheila Leyton prevailed over Mrs. Pierson, 1 up on the 25th hole. First flight winner was Dorothy Schoch, 1 up, over Audrey Gates, and the Second Flight winner was Marion Houghton, 2 up, over Rita Edmunds.

RED TEAM VICTOR

In Summer Lacrosse. The Red team won two playoff games by wide margins last week to become the 1977 champion of the Summer Lacrosse League. Action took place at the Princeton High School fields.

The winners advanced to the finals by eliminating Navy, 9 to 4, as Rob Olson and Marc Remoli both scored four times. Remoli was also credited with a pair of assists, while Hawley Waterman had a goal and an assist. For Navy, Lacey Tyler scored twice, as did Hal Koks.

The White team won by default over Orange in the semi-final round but lost to Red in the title contest, 8 to 3. Waterman paced the scoring with five points on two goals and an assist, while Olson beat the opposing goalie three times. Remoli added a pair of goals and an assist. Kip Sparrow led the losers with two goals and an assist while his brother, Will, produced the other tally.

In Business Softball Play. The Princeton Softball league enters its final two weeks with no undefeated teams.

McGraw Hill had its hopes for a perfect record shattered when Princeton Applied Research engineered a 9-8 upset. John Zipper had three key hits and starred on the mound, while Dave Wisniewski added a home run.

In a bottle for second place, American Can squeezed by GFDL, 10-9. George Fay's home run and Bill Gulvin's mound performance highlighted the victory.

Mathematica remained in contention for a playoff berth with a 6-3 victory over Ingersoll Rand. Paul Ressler was the winning pitcher.

Sparked by second baseman Bob Roderick's defense, RCA defeated ERC, 15-8, to remain in a contest for the final playoff spot. Greg Olson belted two doubles and a home run in a perfect 4-for-4 performance. Roderick, Ron Henderson and Phil Novak each drove in three runs. Phil Heyman was the winning pitcher.

In the American Division, ETS retained its slim hold on first place by routing last place EMR, 19-2. Ron McKinley and Bruce Szawst each had four hits in support of Chris Wynn's mound victory.

FMC kept its hopes for third place alive with a narrow 9-8 victory over Tubesales. Peter Mindell's key hit drove in Bob Brandt with the winning run, as Dave Jones got credit for the victory.

Firmenich also kept its playoff hopes alive with a 13-3 victory over American Cyanamid. Frank Palmer and Bob Pagano led the attack with three hits each. Jim Kostro was the winning pitcher.

PPL-Forrestal kept pace with ETS, a half game from the top with a 13-5 victory over N.J. Bell. Jake Psuzak's three hits and Joe Frangipani's mound effort highlighted the victory.

FALL TENNIS PLANNED

In West Windsor, August 26 is the deadline for applications for the West Windsor Recreation Commission's fall tennis doubles leagues.

Bob Bruschi, recreation director, reports that daytime and evening leagues in doubles are being offered for women and two evening adult leagues are available for men. In addition, an evening league for boys and girls in high school is offered as well as the Sunday evening mixed doubles league for adults. Application blanks are available at the town hall or at the library in Dutch Neck for residents of the township.

The Recreation Commission has also announced that application blanks are now available to township residents for their ninth annual fall tennis tournaments. Two new events, boys and girls under 12 years old singles, have been added, for a total of 25 different categories. Competition will be held from September 10 to November 6 on Saturday and Sunday. Application blanks are available at either the town hall or the library in Dutch Neck. The events, which are free, will be divided into a number of different groups in each category and each winner will receive a small trophy at the annual tennis award ceremony. The registration deadline is Wednesday, August 31.

TENNIS BENEFIT SET

At Morven Garden. Invitations have now been mailed for the Youth Tennis Foundation's annual tennis party on September 17. The garden at Morven is once again the site of the festivities, which include a gourmet dinner and live entertainment. The evening will begin at 5:30 with cocktails and the music of Johnnie Coles' Trio. A dinner catered by Carol Atkin will be served at 7:30, during which time the Inn Cabaret will give an original performance written especially for the evening. Afterwards, dancing and leisure listening to Johnnie Coles' Trio will round out the evening.

The decorations and dinner menu have been worked into the theme: "Come off the court and into the garden for an evening of crisp entertainment." The dinner menu includes individual quiches, gourmet seafood and vegetable salads, French breads and rolls, and Carol Atkin's special carrot cake.

The Inn Cabaret, Princeton's musical and comedy revue, is well known to area residents who attend the Friday night performances at the Nassau Inn. Dan Berkowitz, Roo Brown, Diana Crane, Liz and Steve Fillo, Reid White and Peter Wright are planning a mini-version of the cabaret for this evening. Chairpersons Miles Dumont and Wendy Hopper have announced that proceeds will go to the Youth Tennis Foundation of Princeton, a non-profit organization dedicated to the teaching of tennis to both children and adults.

TENNIS CAMP PLANNED
Supplements Fall Classes. The Princeton Community Tennis Program will begin its fall classes on September 12 for a six-week session. This fall the Community Tennis Program will also offer an adult mini-camp for the week of September 19-23 to be run under the direction of Doug MacCurdy.

Director of instruction at the Lawrenceville Tennis Camp and approved USTA Clinician and USPTA teaching professional, MacCurdy will be assisted by John Gudzinowicz, pro of the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center and director of the Williams Tennis Camp, as well as a staff of other outstanding instructors.

The five-day-a-week program will provide training for intermediate and advanced players with concentrated work on stroke production and strategy. It will offer video tape analysis of each player's strokes, practice periods with ball machines, court drills to reinforce concepts, and supervised match play.

Players will have a choice of two sessions; the first meeting from 9 to noon and the second meeting from 8:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., both from September 19 to 23. Enrollment is limited, so early registration is encouraged.

DO AS DOUG DOES: Doug MacCurdy, director of instruction at the Lawrenceville Tennis Camp and teaching professional for the Community Tennis Program's fall mini-camp for adults, offers some advice to a young southpaw on the Princeton tennis circuit. The adult camp will consist of five days of instruction, either in the morning or early evening, the week of September 19. For reservations call the tennis office, 924-4343.

Brochures describing all Princeton Community Tennis Program classes have been put in the mail this week. Anyone not on the Youth Tennis Foundation's mailing list who would like further information about classes should call the Tennis Office, 924-4343.

BUILDING LOTS IN PRINCETON

A black and white photograph of a two-story building. The upper floor features a row of tall, narrow, dark-framed windows. The ground floor has a central entrance with a small porch or overhang, flanked by windows. To the right of the entrance are two large, arched openings, possibly for vehicles. A utility pole stands in the foreground, slightly to the left of the center. The image is somewhat faded and has a grainy texture.

A sepia-toned photograph of a two-story house. The house has a light-colored exterior and a dark roof. A prominent chimney is visible on the right side of the roof. The front of the house features a porch with several windows. The house is surrounded by trees and foliage, and the overall scene is captured in a vintage, slightly faded style.

A sepia-toned photograph of a large, light-colored house with a prominent chimney, partially obscured by a large, dark evergreen tree on the left. The house has a gabled roof and a porch area. The foreground is a flat, open area, possibly a lawn or field.
